> by cluster area (the goal is to have a student group for each of the trade and technical clusters)

Teacher shares link for career research by cluster: CareerOneStop Career Videos by Cluster https://www.careeronestop.org/Vi deos/CareerVideos/career- videos.aspx

Teacher announces that the class will meet with guest speakers representing careers in the trade and technical clusters. Each group will be responsible for asking the guests one of the class' questions .	Student groups determine which question they will be responsible for when they meet the guest speakers. Students label the class list with their names to show their choice.	5min
Day 5- Teacher invites a panel of community guest speakers representing careers in the trade and technical clusters. Note: If a teacher has several classes of this prep each day, a different guest could visit each class. Video each guest to share with the other classes. This creates a "panel" without placing undue burden on community workers.	Day 5- Students learn about careers in the trade and technical clusters through meeting with community representatives of those careers.	40min
Teacher, or student volunteers, act as moderators to ask facilitate the groups' asking their questions.	Student groups take turns asking the panel the questions they identified in yesterday's class. Students record the answer to their group's question.
Day 6 and 7- Teacher shows students examples of Help Wanted Ads for trade and technical cluster positions, and provides brief direct instruction on the primary components of a Help Wanted Ad.	Day 6 and 7-	40min x 2 days 20 min
Teacher provides students with a variety of materials that they can use to make Help Wanted Ad posters.	Student groups use their notes to create "Help Wanted Ad" posters for the trade and technical career represented by the cluster they researched.	40 min

	Teacher provides students with a list of components (or a project rubric) which must be included on their posters.	Posters must include those components required by the teacher.
	Teacher poses a summary question, for students to answer on the back of their posters: How does understanding your personal interests and abilities help you identify the possibilities for your future career?	On the back of the poster, students write a summary statement answering the question: How does understanding your personal interests and abilities help you identify the possibilities for your future career?
	Teacher facilitates student groups' sharing their Help Wanted Ad posters.	Students share their posters and then hang their posters in the hallway.	20 min
Differentiation	Instructional delivery should be given in multiple forms including but not limited to large and small group discussions, visual and auditory delivery, individual and group research and exploration, demonstration of terms and themes. Students will be grouped by their abilities and interests. Teacher will provide scaffolded support where needed. Students who have physical disabilities will be accommodated for. Students who are meeting all of the expectations will be challenged to go above and beyond.
Closure	Students write a summary statement answering the question: How does understanding your personal interests and abilities help you identify the possibilities for your future career?
